

Searching content for licensing for companies that use significant quantities of stock photography footage and other visual content

Save Costs

- Avoid costly internal development of similar tools
- Integrate your wholly owned content into searches
- Compare images and price

Save Time

- Save 40% to 80% of research time
- Simultaneously search all web sites of all your content suppliers
- Send multiple research and quote requests with the click of a button
- Meet press deadlines and quotas with saved time

Enable New Models

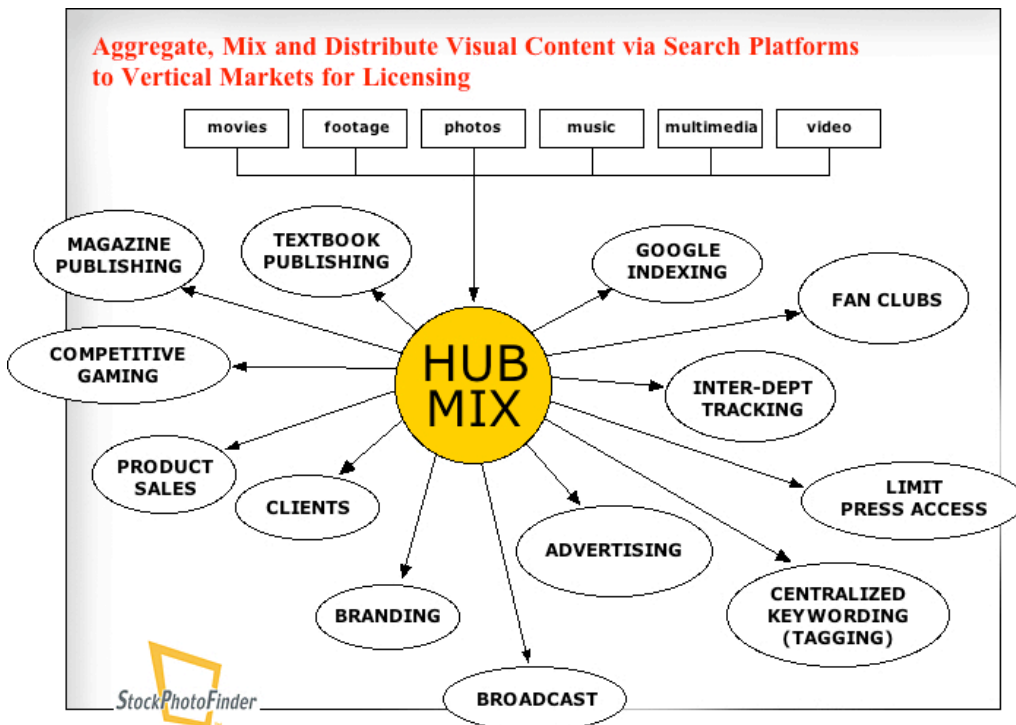

- Combine search of images, footage/video, illustrations and other visual content

Improve Quality

- Enable art buyers and researchers to see more content, faster, to find that "one in a million"

Mitigate Risk

- Best practices by StockPhotoFinder lower corporate risk
- The right to search content has been granted by each content source
- Diversity requirements in content are more easily satisfied by broadening content sources
- Supplier digital assets are decentralized, reducing dependency on any one provider
- Transparent oversight by third-party license tracking
- Communication tools assist tracking of editing, client and author approvals
